WHEN THERE IS TOO LITTLE ROOM FOR TOO MUCH INFORMATION

PRESS GOTHIC PRO'S starting point was Aldo Novarese's Metropol typeface, issued by the Italian Nebiolo foundry in 1967 as a competitor to bold condensed gothics like Schmalfette/Haettenschweiler, Compacta, Impact, and Helvetica Inserat.

Though Metropol enjoyed a few short months of popularity and use in Italy, Germany and France, the others won the technological outlasting battle by moving on to film type then to computer outlines bundled with mainstream software. Metropol never made it past the metal state until we took a look at it in 2005. Too bad really, since this is one of the few faces that could have played well with all the stretching and squeezing of the 1970s.

Just like its inspiration, Press Gothic Pro aimed to be a fresh alternative to big economical poster fonts with clear sans serif forms and an urgent, strong, yet elegant design appeal. In 2024, we turned it into a 10-weight Pan-European family with an expanded glyph set of more than 1420 characters and plenty of typographic bells and whistles. Now this typeface is somewhat of an amalgamation of Metropol, the faces that triggered its design, as well as many of those that succeeded it in the phototypesetting era.

This latest expansion of Press Gothic Pro was done in an interpolative environment, resulting in a variable font with a weight axis ranging from Thin to Heavy.

ASTRONAUTS LAND ON PLAIN; COLLECT ROCKS, PLANT FLAG

Voice From Moon: 'Eagle Has Landed'

EAGLE (the lunar module): Houston, Tranquility Base here. The Eagle has Landed.

HOUSTON: Roger, Tranquility, we copy you on the ground. You've got a bunch of guys about to turn blue. We're breathing again. Thanks a lot.

TRANQUILITY BASE: Thank You.

HOUSTON: You're looking good here.

TRANQUILITY BASE: A very good touchdown

HOUSTON: You're looking good here.

A Powdery Surface is Closely Explored

By JOHN NOBLE WILFORD

Houston, Monday, July 21 – Men have landed and walked on the moon. Two Americans, astronauts of Apollo 11, steered their fragile four-legged lunar module safely and smoothly to the historic landing yesterday at 4:17 P.M., Eastern daylight time.

Neil A. Armstrong, the 38-year-old civilian commander radioed the earth and mission control room here: "Huston, Tranquility Base here. The Eagle has landed." The first man to walk on the moon – Mr.
